Dear Church Family,

As we approach a season of thanks, I felt it appropriate to highlight the people in our lives that may be easily overlooked or even forgotten. It is not to make us feel guilty; rather, it's a reminder that it takes very little to give others something to be thankful for. I'm reminded of this scripture as I prepare another message on The Sermon on the Mount from Matthew 7:12, "So whatever you wish that others would do to you, do also to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets."

One of my unique privileges as a pastor is spending time with people at some of the highest and lowest moments of their life. Though I know my role as clergy implies the power and presence of God to someone in need, I often feel ill-equipped to comfort someone who has lost a spouse of more than half a century, or they themselves face a grim health diagnosis. I imagine you may have experienced this as well.

Yet, the most precious thing that the Lord repeatedly reminds me is that often the ministry of being present is more important than anything else we could do in seemingly helpless situations. The comfort of scripture and prayer should always be part of the equation, but it's incredible how grateful people are for a few moments of my time when I visit them.

This is a call to remember those in the life of our congregation who are shut-in, homebound, or otherwise unable to be part of our regular worship and ministry life together. It's also an encouragement to remember that during this season of thanks, it takes very little to give someone in our sphere of influence something to be thankful for. Instead of quickly blowing through casual conversation with the bank teller, take an extra thirty seconds to let them be heard or noticed. Go through a regular check-out rather than the self-checkout, and smile as you talk to the cashier. Pick up the phone for five minutes and call someone who is on your mind that you haven't talked with in a while. The small and simplest possibilities are endless.

I hope that we can notice this Thanksgiving season the small yet mighty ways we can be the hope and encouragement someone needs. These small moments matter. Because we have Jesus, we carry the hope of the world, to the world. May we share that hope generously, without reservation.

Bless and be blessed,

Michael

“The Benefits of Gratitude

Thanking God glorifies and magnifies Him, but did you know it also benefits us? Giving thanks:

1. Refocuses our attention on His provision and faithfulness,
2. Relieves anxiety by shifting our burdens to Him,
3. Refreshes our relationship by focusing on Him, not ourselves,
4. Reinforces our faith by remembering His past faithfulness to us,
5. Rejoices our spirit by bringing us a sense of joy.

Although gratitude is always beneficial, it is not necessarily easy. But shifting our focus and thanking the Lord for all He has done for us is the fastest way to change our attitude and reenergize ourselves to push thru whatever challenges we face.”

(In Touch, October, 2025, p.23.)

Scripture: “Oh give thanks to the Lord! Call upon His Name; Make know His deeds among the peoples,” (Psalm 105:1)

CHRISTMAS Parade

Christmas Float & Parade

The church is entering a float in the New Castle Christmas Parade on Saturday, November 22nd. Small, wrapped candy is needed to be handed out at the parade. Bins will be available in Circle Drive.

Attention all of you who love to decorate for Christmas! We will be decorating our beautiful church and sanctuary on Sunday, November 23rd, after church. We can use all able bodied men, women, and children who are available for a little while after the service. People will be there to give directions so don't be concerned if you've never helped in the past. Many hands make light work, as they say! A light lunch will be served to all who stay to help. Please mark your calendars and join us as we “deck the halls”!

Christmas Program
Sunday, December 21st

Part assignments and practices for this year's youth Christmas Program, "Manger Tales," will start in Fellowship Hall Sunday, October 26th, and will be held each Sunday through December 14th during worship, with the performance on December 21st during worship in Fellowship Hall, followed by cookies and cocoa reception.

These practices will be for children in Third Grade and up for the cast and leader and reader parts, as well as younger children who wish to participate in the choral parts being added as practices progress.

Dress Rehearsal will be Friday, December 19th in the early evening.

We are very excited to present the good news of the birth of Jesus from the animals' perspectives to everyone!

If you have any questions or would like to help out, please see Nancy Natale, Kali Anderson, or Courtney Plyler.
